RAISING WARRIORS OF
WISDOM, STATURE AND FAVOR

What's going on at NIAP?

We are excited to offer co-curricular classes to you in an online format. Starting next week, and running all Summer, students will be able to participate in Chess, Debate, CS Lewis and Classical Literature, Robotics and Cybersecurity. What's more, there will be incentives awarded to students as they progress through these courses. For example, we will be giving away gift cards to various restaurants, Amazon, Barnes&Noble, etc. We will also be giving away Unlocked Android phones and iPads. Of course, the more a student progresses in a given class (i.e. chess, debate, etc.) the greater will be the incentives awarded. All incentives will be distributed by July 31st, though in many cases, students may continue to participate even after that date. We encourage you to have fun with this; involve your family, compete with your friends. Students may participate in any or all the co-curricular classes that we offer; students are not restricted to any single class. We very much look forward to seeing what our students will do this Summer with virtual co-curricular classes. You may access these classes by going to the NIA website, selecting "students" from the top menu, and "CCC-Distance" from the dropdown menu. Then simply scroll down to the co-curricular class you wish to explore. There you will find an introductory paragraph you will need to read and a short introductory video you will need to watch. Once again, welcome to Newman's online connection for co-curricular classes! Enjoy!
